

In The Loop

The Newsletter of The Norfolk Reading Project
www.thenorfolkreadingproject.co.uk

Many schools are now accepting volunteers back and most of our newly-trained helpers are already in schools. They have been welcomed with open arms: more volunteers are desperately needed to help children catch up after 110 days of lost classroom teaching due to the pandemic. Please get in touch with us and your school to let us know if and when you are able to return.

If you are back in school, we'd really love to hear how you are getting on!

Drop us a line at info@thenorfolkreadingproject.co.uk

Do, please, spread the word about our work and if you know anyone who would like to train as a volunteer, ask them to contact us at the email above. Ideally, we'd like volunteers to spend at least a morning or afternoon a week in school during term time. Feedback from our volunteers underlines what a satisfying, fun and rewarding experience this is.

Norfolk At Its Best!

The Norfolk Reading Project features in this inspiring new book soon to be on sale, priced £15, in Jarrolds and online, featuring the work of Norfolk charities.

Have you seen us on Facebook?

We now have 238 followers and recently launched a recruitment campaign with an eye-catching carousel of ads. Elaine Simpson keeps our online presence up to date on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. Big thanks to her for providing us with topical articles, diary dates, competitions and educational information.

New Dates

Our next training session will be on October 16th at Town Close School library. Enormous thanks go to Town Close for offering us this ideal training space free of charge. Further dates have been arranged for November 20th, January 15th, February 26th, March 26th and April 30th.

New Initiative with Norwich School

We are delighted that some of the lower Sixth formers at Norwich School are soon to be going into Magdalen Gates Primary School each week to give reading support as one of their Community Service Volunteering Projects.

DBS Certificates:

Remember to let us know if your certificate is more than 2 years old and not registered with the online update service.

